ABOUT ME

My name is Julia and I live in Victoria, Australia. I received my Bachelor of Occupational Therapy with Honours from Deakin University, where I completed an honours research project on the underlying skills of handwriting in students 6-8 years of age. I have experience working with children 3-12 years of age, from a wide range of culturally diverse backgrounds. This includes indigenous Australians, children with a trauma background, new Australians and individuals with a refugee background, who may or may not have a diagnosed disability, developmental delay, or are at risk of developmental delay.

My experience includes working in private practice, privately as an ABA therapist,

I am currently the head of the Occupational Therapy department in a mainstream school as well as the Director of 'Tiny Tackers Therapy' a paediatric therapy service. I have two articles published in international journals exploring the topic of handwriting - Australian Journal of Occupational Therapy and the British Journal of Occupational Therapy.
